ONE OF THE FIRST TRUE EXPLOSIVES is believed to have been discovered — as were many other scientific "firsts" —by accident. Friar Roger Bacon (1561 - 1626) managed to purify some potassium nitrate, tried it in some old gunpowde formulas, expecting to get a "whoosh"—and instead got a "BANG."

ARMAND LYNCH BUYS SERVICE STATION AND GARAGE ON PERU ST.

Old Site of Plattsburgh Traction Co. Purchased From Frank Chapman

Armand Lynch, proprietor of Northern Oldsmobile Company, local Cadillac and Oldsmobile dealer, has purchased from Frank C. Chapman of Ogdensburg, the garage property and service station located at 74 Peru Street, this city.

This property originally belonged to the Plattsburgh Traction Co. and was used by that company as a car barn in the days when Plattsburgh had the old "Tunervilles."

In 1935 Mr. Chapman acquired the property from the Plattsburgh National Bank & Trust Co. and converted the large brick building located in the rear into a modern garage. An up-to-date Socony Vacuum Service Station was then built on the front of the property facing the street.

In 1940 when Mr. Chapman decided to discontinue the automobile business, Mr. Lynch leased the place and has occupied it since. Yesterday, the sale was completed. It was a cash transaction. The selling price could not be learned.

Robert C. Booth was the attorney for both Mr. Chapman and Mr. Lynch.

REV. LAURENCE BYERS YOUTH GROUP SPEAKER

Byers, one of the four Traveling Fellows of the Department of Life Work of the Presbyterian Board of Education in Philadelphia, will address the Youth Fellowship of the First Presbyterian Church here and of Peru, Champlain and Chazy at the Plattsburgh church tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Mr. Byers completed in 1945 his middler year at San Anselmo Seminary in California. His undergraduate degree is from Occidental College, where he majored in psychology and was particularly active in organizing the student church and in radio dramatics, music and lecturing. He is known for his sketching and painting, a head of Christ painted by him having found wide use in the Presbyterian church.

His varied experiences have included summers as tourist guide in the high Sierras, fire-guard on horseback, mechanic on the Alaskan highway, missioner in the Kentucky mountains and assistant to the pastor of a city church. His home is in San Anselmo, Cal.

As Mr. Byers travels this year in New England and New York State, he carries a message of vocational needs and opportunities in the church to churches, church schools, rallies and high school assemblies.
